Coroner Says 1,000 and War Department 277 Perished In Calamity.

San Francisco, April 25.—Coroner William Walsh today estimated that the total number of dead will not be less than 1,000. His information, he says, is compiled from all the data he can obtain.

Coroner Walsh said: "Bodies that the deputy coroners have found and buried number 300, as follows: 'At Folk and Bay streets, 32; at Portsmouth square, 25; at Washington square, 13; at the Six-mile House, 20; at Laurel Hill, 32; scattered in different parts of the city, 10. No thorough search has been made of the district south of Market or the Chinese quarter. Many lives must have been lost in these sections. South of Market street are the cheap lodging houses, and many of these collapsed from the earthquake. There is little chance that half of the inmates of the collapsed buildings had opportunity to escape. This is also true of Chinatown."

"Shortly after the earthquake soldiers and police, so I have been told, buried bodies found along the water front. I have received no official report of these. The total number of dead will undoubtedly reach, if it does not exceed, 1,000."

The official report from Gen. Greely of the extent of the loss of life in San Francisco is as follows:

"Fort Mason, San Francisco April 23, 1906.—The Military Secretary, Washington, D. C.: Very careful investigation made by Capt. Winn today limit as far as information is obtainable, the entire San Francisco death list from late disaster to 277 victims; of these about fifty unknown gathered from various parts of the city have been temporarily buried in Lombard and Bay streets, Washington square and Portsmouth square."

"In the Valencia Hotel fourteen bodies were recovered and fifty-six others are believed to have perished in the ruins."

Sunday in the Park.

It must have been impressive to hear the sound of 50,000 voices in Golden Gate park last Sunday afternoon join in singing that stanza in "Nearer My God, to Thee":

Other refuge have I none;
Hangs my helpless soul on Thee,
Leave, O leave me not alone—
Still support and comfort me.

Cupid Working Overtime.

Since the first day of the disaster there has been an increase in the number of marriage licenses issued, seven being issued in one hour on Monday, although no other business is transacted in the county clerk's office.

"I don't live anywhere," is the answer given in many cases when the applicant is asked where his residence is. "I used to live in San Francisco."

WOMEN'S WORLD

Hopkinsville Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity, they must "keep up", must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture; they must bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Be of a remedy for kidneys only that help and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. John Coombs, of 1226 South Virginia street, says: "For a great many years I suffered with persistent aching across my loins and through the kidneys. At times my back was so bad that I could hardly turn in bed and I could hardly lie on my back at all without placing my hand under it, which seemed in some measure to relieve the pain. A friend of Mr. Coombs told him that Doan's Kidney Pills and he got a box for me at Taylor & Traher's drug store. On using them I steadily improved, until the dreadful aching was relieved, and could attend to my household duties without any inconvenience. They did more for me than any medicine I ever used and I gladly recommend them." For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HADDOCK ITEMS.

Newsy Notes Chronicled by "Rose Bud."

Haddock, April 21.—The farmers are getting along very nicely with their farming since the good weather set in.

Mr. Willie Vinson, of the Dogwood vicinity, had the misfortune to lose his horse last week.

Mrs. Julia Simms has moved to her mother's place (the late Mrs. Berry's) to live with her brother.

Mr. Paul Vanhooser is sick at this writing.

Mr. Ant Berry was taken very sick the day before his wife died and has been unconscious ever since.

Mrs. Martha Hord and her mother, Mrs. Bailey Vanhooser, spent last Thursday with the family of Mr. Frank Vanhooser.

Mrs. Julia Mason visited her father a few days last week.

On the 18th of April, God in His infinite wisdom, saw fit to call from the low ground of sin and sorrow to a beautiful world above, the spirit of Mrs. Annie Berry, the wife of Mr. Ant Berry. She was a good christian woman and was loved by all who knew her. She had been sick for about two months with afterwards bravely until God relieved her of them. She leaves a husband and four children to mourn their loss! The children are: J. H. Duval, Dock and Bud Duval and Mrs. Julia Simms. Interment at the Richard Miles burying ground. Rose Bud.

ELECTRICAL STORM

Saturday Night Made Things Lively at Guthrie.

The electric storm of Saturday night did no damage here, though, for a time, the city was in darkness, on account of the current being broken. The house lights were not affected.

But Guthrie did not fare so well. A lightning bolt which knocked to pieces the top of one of the chimneys of Hotel Latham, crippled the electric plant there so badly that the town will be in darkness for a week or more.

Caught Cold While Hunting a Burglar.

Mr. Wm. Thos. Lanorgan, provincial constable at Chappleau, Ontario, says: "I caught a severe cold while hunting a burglar in the forest swamp last fall. Hearing of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I tried it, and after using two small bottles, I was completely cured." This remedy is indicated especially for coughs and colds. It will loosen and relieve a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and is a favorite wherever its superior excellence has become known. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists of Hopkinsville.

With the coming of a circus or two, the dog and pony show, the Firemen's and Pythian carnival and several other things yet to hear from, things will be quite lively here for some time—but how we will miss base ball during the hot and dull times of midsummer.

Grippe Quickly Knocked Out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds, which speedily developed into the worst kind of a grippe, with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. S. Eggleston, of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Chest sore, knees and joints aching, head stooped up, eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, aiding the same with a double dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and by its liberal use soon completely 'knocked out the grippe.'" Sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists of Hopkinsville.

A Hole Bored for Coal Suddenly Caves In.

Earlington, Ky., April 21.—That the seismic disturbances which caused such awful damage at San Francisco were far-reaching in their effect, while for the most part of insufficient magnitude to be noticeable, is the belief of parties at this point. The St. Bernard Mining Company was drilling a test bore to determine the mineral character of the ground at various depths and the drill had been driven to a depth of 1,300 feet. Suddenly, on the morning of the San Francisco disaster, and making allowance for the difference in time, simultaneously with the earth's tremors at that point, the hole, although encased, caved in. No trouble had been experienced by the drillers before, and the damage was so great to the bore that the work of drilling to a depth of 3,000 feet, as originally intended, was abandoned, a total wreck resulting.

Shrieking and Shooting.

It is a comfort to realize when we hear people talking about "the good old times that used to be", that in some respects, at least, we show more common sense today. One instance is in our attitude toward women. There was a time when a woman was expected to shriek and faint in almost any emergency. It was even considered an attractive exhibition of dependence. Today we pardon lack of nerve and self-possession in a woman almost as little as in a man. The girl who rides and shoots has taken the place of the girl who used to shriek and faint. No small factor in bringing this welcome change about has been the campaign carried on by the St. Stevens Arms and Tool Company, Chicago Falls, Mass., makers of the famous Stevens firearms, who have introduced our girls to the healthy, upbuilding sport of outdoor shooting. The company has issued a catalog illustrating many varieties of lightweight rifles, shotguns and pistols which girls all over the country are using today. It contains much useful and interesting information on such points as the selection, care and testing of firearms, besides notes on ammunition, targets, etc. We understand this book of reference will be sent free to anyone sending four cents in stamps to cover postage.

Rheumatic Pains Relieved.

The quick relief from rheumatic pains afforded by Chamberlain's Pain Balm has surprised and delighted thousands of sufferers. It makes rest and sleep possible. A great many have been permanently cured of rheumatism by the use of this liniment. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists of Hopkinsville.

Situations Guaranteed.

We do not guarantee situations to prospective students; in order to get their patronage. Schools of merit do not resort to such dishonest practices.

Fake schools "guarantee" situations in order to secure students, because they have no other inducements to offer.

Our work is so thorough that a guarantee is superfluous. Business men are so eager to get compared with here that a large percent of our students take positions before they graduate.

See us before making arrangements for your business and stenographic education at some inferior fake school. We will take pleasure in telling you all about the loopholes in the "position guarantees" of dishonest schools. Call on us free.

MEANING IS CHAOS.

U. S. Supreme Court Declation in Divorce Case.

Makes Illegal Innumerable Marriages Throughout Country.

It is estimated by Chicago lawyers that the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States holding illegal all divorces except where both parties to the suit resided within the same jurisdiction, will make illegal 500 divorces in that city alone, and pave the way for all manner of complications in the next generation over inheritance and the rights to property.

Several prominent attorneys declared that the decision simply means chaos in regard to the title to personal property, as in cases where a man who was, in the sight of the decision, illegally divorced and remarried, his property must, of necessity, revert to his legal heirs, and cannot be held by any children of any woman he may have married subsequent to his divorce.

The decision will, it is estimated, render invalid more than 2,000 divorces granted in St. Louis in the last ten years. In a large proportion of the cases filed in the circuit court the defendant was not a resident of the State of Missouri.

Attorneys interested in the South Dakota divorce industry say they are not prepared at this time to say what effect this decision will have on the industry. However, it is believed that, regardless of the decision, the present members of the colony will not abandon their intention to secure divorces.

Republican Graft.

One of the life insurance magnates has been arrested for giving a large sum of money, that should have been for the widows and orphans of the policy holders, to the Republican National Committee. President Roosevelt declared before election that no tainted money was being used in his campaign, but evidence shows he was greatly mistaken, for the insurance trust and other corporations "came down" it is that the administration organs before the last national election declared that the President was managing the campaign on a "business basis" and receiving daily reports of the finances of the Republican committee from hairman Cortelyou. Was the President deceived or did he then think insurance money was not tainted? No restitution has yet been made, though it would seem that the ethics of the situation demand that the money be returned to its rightful owners.

CONSUMPTION.

Precaution Must Be Taken to Prevent Spread.

The Postoffice Department has sent to all postmasters throughout the United States an order relating to employees suffering from consumption. It provides that every precaution must be used to prevent the spread of the tuberculosis germ. Tuberculosis victims must furnish their own drinking glasses and must not in any way mingle so as to spread the disease among other employees. They must be prohibited from expectorating on the floors or even in the cuspidors provided for employees.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mothers look forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of their children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peru-na is the best friend she has in times of illness among the children.

The doctors may come and go with their different theories and constant change of remedies.

The doctor of years ago gave entirely different remedies than he does today. Each year finds some change in his prescriptions and in the drugs he relies upon.

A Multitude of Mothers

There are mothers of Peru-na in the stand-by, and that in all the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peru-na is the remedy that will most quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Peru-na quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Peru-na is not a physic. Peru-na is not a narcotic or a narcotic. Peru-na does not produce any drug habit, however long it may be taken. Peru-na is not a stimulant.

Peru-na is a specific remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic. It has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peru-na has.

The Mothers Hold Peru-na in High Esteem.

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it always rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files hundreds of testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Peru-na. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peru-na, never hear from them.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Peru-na that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

Peru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Peru-na should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Peru-na on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the afflictions of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, croup, whooping cough, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Mrs. Amelia Sellar, Menasha, Wis., writes:

"I have used Peru-na for a number of years. It cured me of chronic catarrh which I suffered with from infancy.

"When my three children were born they all had catarrh, but I have given them Peru-na and did it very effectively, including them of this horrible trouble. I find that it is also good to give them as a tonic and a preventative of colds and colic."

"So, I consider it a household blessing. I would not know how to raise my children without it. I am pleased to give it my personal endorsement."

—Amelia Sellar.

Address Dr. S. B. Haeuman, President of The Hartman Sanatorium, Columbus, Ohio.

All correspondence held strictly confidential.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Peru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments that have prevented the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But let this much be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Peru-na, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting diseases, thus blighting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Peru-na are doing a great work for humanity.

These children brought up to believe in Peru-na from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Peru-na with unquestioning faith.

Peru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Peru-na is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of catarrh will be prevented.

Mrs. Thessa Rooke, 228 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., Treasurer Ladies' of the Maccabees, writes:

"In our home Peru-na is the only medicine we have. Grandmother, mother, father and child, all have used Peru-na. It is our great remedy for catarrh of the stomach and head, colds, and female complaints of which it has cured me."

"We find it of great value when my husband becomes worn out or catches cold. A couple of doses cure him."

"If the baby has colic, or any stomach disorders, a dose or two cures her."

"I consider Peru-na finer than any doctor's medicine that I have ever tried, and I know that as long as we have it in the house, we will all be able to keep in good health."—Thessa Rooke.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 627 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Peru-na. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctors with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good."

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Peru-na."

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him so we tried Peru-na as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

Peru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peru-na has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peru-na is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peru-na does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

There are a multitude of homes where Peru-na has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Peru-na contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, Near Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong."

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Peru-na, and we shall always praise Peru-na and use it in our family when needed."

"Should we have any more catarrh trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."—G. H. Farmer.

Mr. Howard Andrew Sterner, Muddy Creek, Pa., writes:

"I have Peru-na in my house all the time and won't be without it. It is good for children when they take a cold or croup. It cured my baby boy of croup."

"I have introduced Peru-na into six families since I received your last letter, and four have been relieved already."

—Howard Andrew Sterner.

There have been five previous earthquakes in San Francisco within the last 57 years, in which an aggregate of 187 lives were lost. The loss of life this time has been officially reduced to 277. A little less than four square miles of territory was burned over, about half a mile more than in the great Chicago fire. The losses make it rank as the world's greatest conflagration.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you may possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle. ## CROFTON NEWS.

Burned District Being Rebuilt—One Death.

Crofton, Ky., April 25.—A portion of the burned district at this place will be rebuilt at once. The fire last November destroyed seven business houses, including the hotel and sample room. On yesterday work was commenced on two business houses—one for Mr. A. C. Brasher and the other for M. B. Brown & Son. Mr. Brasher will build a brick house for use as a drug store and Brown & Son will erect a brick to be used as a store postoffice. Andy Adams has purchased a portion of the hotel lot and has commenced the erection of a frame business house thereon. Cranor Brothers recently bought the lot where stood the hotel. It is likely that the balance of the burned district will be rebuilt at an early date. The wife of Mr. James White, of the Castleberry neighborhood, died Thursday night after a long illness of consumption. She is survived by her husband and several children. The interment took place in the Macedonia church cemetery Friday.

Death of Child.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Thomas, of near Caledonia, lost their little boy Tuesday. The little fellow was bright and winsome for a child, though he had blessed the home but one brief year.

The bereaved parents have the heartfelt sympathy of their friends and neighbors. The burial took place Wednesday in the Jones burying ground.

It Costs More to Prepare the Surface

than to do the repainting itself. If the paint is not Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil, this is the only paint which is elastic enough and tough enough, in spite of climatic changes, to wear smoothly and evenly right down to the surface, leaving it free and uniform, all ready for the painter to begin his work when repainting is finally necessary.

A paint adulterated with barytes, yellow ochre, zinc and other substitutes for Pure White Lead, is inevitably stiff and brittle; and changes in temperature make it blister, crack and peel. Long before such a paint has worn away, repainting becomes a necessity, on account of the many places left exposed. Yet, before repainting can be done, the blotted, uneven surface must be scraped or burned till the smooth surface of the wood itself is reached. This requires much of the painter's valuable time, and is attended with no little risk from fire.

Avoid this expensive process and the danger which it always involves, by insisting on Pure White Lead in the first place. Don't leave any loophole; specify the brand!

HUNDRED YEARS OLD

CATHEDRAL IS HUNDRED YEARS OLD

Mark Gosnell

The celebration on April 29 of the centenary of the laying of the cornerstone of the old Baltimore cathedral will probably be the most notable gathering of prelates of the Roman Catholic Church since the plenary in 1884. This venerable church is the seat of the primacy of the American Roman Catholic hierarchy, and the great hall of legislation for that church in the United States.

Twelve archbishops and a hundred or more bishops, monsignors, abbots and leaders of the various religious orders will take part in the ceremonies, which will be on a scale of magnificence never before equaled in this church, not even at the national councils.

For more than a year decorators and gliders have worked on the minarets, dome and the interior of the big edifice, completely renovating it for the centenary. The costly work is now complete.

The Baltimore cathedral is the second oldest cathedral in the United States, the oldest being the cathedral at St. Augustine, Fla., built by the Spaniards.

The programme for the celebration includes a procession of the prelates and priests around the cathedral block on the morning of Sunday, April 29, to be followed by mass at which Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, will pontificate. Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, will preach the sermon. To this service may also be invited the president and vice president of the United States, members of the cabinet, many senators, representatives and diplomats and state and city officials.

At vespers Archbishop Memmer, of Milwaukee, will pontificate, and Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, will preach. These two services will compose the religious part of the programme.

The history of the old cathedral is told by Cardinal Gibbons, who, in speaking of the importance to church circles of the coming event, said:

"In celebrating the centenary the nation of Archbishop Carroll will occupy a conspicuous place. John Carroll was appointed first bishop of Baltimore by Pope Pius VII., and was consecrated on August 15, 1790, in the chapel attached to Lalworth castle, Dorsetshire, England. His see, the oldest in the United States, embraced then the whole country. The consecrating prelate was Rt. Rev. Dr. Walmesley, vicar apostolic of the London district.

"The site selected for the edifice was purchased from Gov. Howard, of revolutionary fame, whose equestrian statue adorns Mount Vernon place. The architect of the cathedral was Benjamin Henry Latrobe, the grandfather of Gen. Persimmon C. Latrobe, many times mayor of Baltimore. Mr. Latrobe also designed the old capitol at Washington.

"The cornerstone of the cathedral was laid by Bishop Carroll on July 7, 1806. Baltimore, which to-day has nearly 600,000 souls, at that time had a population of about 30,000, and the Catholic community amounted to hardly 5,000 souls.

"The granite with which the church is built was brought from the quarries of Elliptical City in carts drawn by oxen. The work of construction slowly but steadily advanced until 1821, when it was interrupted by the war with England. After the close of the war the work was resumed and carried on until the completion of the building, in 1821.

"On May 31, 1821, the edifice was dedicated by Archbishop Marcellus. About 10 years ago the notice was constructed by Archbishop Kenrick.

"On Ascension day, Thursday, May 25, 1876, the cathedral was consecrated by Archbishop Bayly. The sacristy was erected in 1879, and the building was enlarged and the new sanctuary added in 1888.

"Since its dedication, in 1821, the cathedral has been the scene of many conspicuous and historic gatherings. No church in the United States has witnessed so many consecrations of altars and ordinations of priests as have taken place within these walls. The 26 bishops have occupied leading positions among the American hierarchy, including Whitefield, Bishop of Baltimore; Fenwick, of Boston; Dubois, of New York; Purcell and Elder, of Cincinnati; Whelan, of Wheeling; Cross, of Oregon, and the late Polak, of St. Louis. The bishops raised here to the episcopal rank, I have had the privilege of consecrating ten."

How Nature Provides.

OUR BEAUTY, HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

Is it not possible if not probable that elements necessary for the body-health are contained in the native medicinal roots found in the earth, destined in the plant laboratory of nature and made ready for man or animal?

The medicinal virtues of many American plants and roots were known to the early Indians. This a root known to modern physicians as Cantharidinum or Elaeagnus was known to the Indians as "Squaw root." Another, known to the Indians as "Battledore root," is used in modern medicine as "Cimicifuga."

Prof. King's American Dispensatory, an authority in the matter, says: "Our Indians set a high value on Battledore root (Black Cohosh) in diseases of women. It is surpassed by no other drug in congestive conditions of the parts where there are dragging pains and tenderness."

After many years of study and experiment Dr. Pierce, the medical director of the "Invalidee" Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., put up a prescription of his own, containing the non-alcoholic glyceric extracts of the two above mentioned ingredients, together with Glyceric acid, Lady's Slipper root and Unicorn root. This, there is no mystery in the make-up of this famous "Prescription." The use of alcohol is it stands alone as Nature's disease peculiar to women because the earth supplies the vegetable ingredients.

Mrs. Mary J. Brand (Trained Nurse, Washington Hospital, of 1705 9th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.) writes:

"I was daily for four years, had terrible pains at times and was often unable to be about attending to my duties; finally my attention was called to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and decided to try it. Am certainly glad that I did for I became improved with the first bottle, and gradually became better until I was entirely cured of the old trouble. Am well and can enjoy life once more."

Dr. Pierce's Good temper is largely a matter of healthy activity of the bowels. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are safe, sure and speedy, and once taken do not have to be taken again. Our little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two mild cathartics. They never gripe. By all druggists.

The Land of BIG CROPS and PROSPERITY.

Are you making as much off your farm as you ought? No doubt you are making all you CAN. The trouble is the land costs too much. It takes too much money to buy a big farm, and so you are trying to make a living on a small farm, or perhaps you are renting one and paying a good share of what you raise, in rent. Wouldn't it be better to go where the price of good land is so little that you can own a big farm—where every acre of the ground is working for you and all you raise is paying you good profits?

There are thousands of acres of fertile land in the Southwest along the line of the Cotton Belt Route that can be bought for from $3 to $10 an acre. This land is increasing in value each year.

MY LOVE

A lover am I and a lover bold,
And this earth is my lady fair,
I have her in every shape and pose,
And I sing of her beauties rare.

I brave the fierce storm on the mountain top,
And stand to the sentinel plow.
Hurrah! hurrah! you are keeping the faith,
And guarding this dear love of mine.

With snows and ice and sharp shafts of snow,
We fly like the swift arrow by,
And race with the reindeer to lay at her feet.

Our offerings, Old Winter and I,
Far out on the prairie and upland plain,
When the wild western winds blow free,
I watch brave summer with flowers and grain.

The inland lakes in amerald frames,
And margins of silver and gold,
Are mirrors whose lifelike efforts are vain
To picture the charms they behold.

Old ocean is raging in futile wrath,
And lashing his waves into foam,
Though tossing his knees and gifts at her
feet.

Alas! be no farther can come,
And then under palms 'neath the Southern stars,
She's a queen in a jeweled crown,
I worship all day and dream all the night,
And treasure her voice from I,

Magazine.

TOM'S VALENTINE

By DAVID MUNROE CORY

(Copyright, 1910, by Joseph B. Bowler.)

"Carrie!" cries Tom Travers, leaning back dependently in his chair, "I haven't got an idea."

"What!" laughs his hopeful little wife. "Then sit right down and write an up-to-date novel!"

"It's no laughing matter!" sighs
Tom. "Here's another of my stories returned," pulling it out of his pocket and looking at it with a tender glance.

"Poor old thing!" he soliloquizes, "I suppose the editor slammed you down on his desk and treated you shamefully."
But, Carrie, no idea, no money—that's the result in a nutshell. I'd gladly swap an idea for a dollar, but I have no ideas; and, ten to one if I had, I couldn't write a bargain. Every editor seems to think I'm a swindler, when all I want is to make a fair trade."

"Tom, take my advice: sit down and force yourself to write something.
You'll be surprised to find how interesting it will turn out."

"Oh, pshaw!" expostulates Tom.
"I've lived on nothing but hope and bread and butter so long that I can't turn out thoughts like the fellow who basks in the smiles of an editor. I'm out of the coil."

"Write something for St. Valentine's!" looking up with a smile from her fancy-work. "There's a starter for you."

"Well," replies Tom, dubiously.
Then, with sudden alacrity, "Let's see.

THE EDITOR HAS BEEN SITTING THINKING.

I'll write a valentine to you—you've been my inspiration," and seizing paper and pen he carefully writes: "To Carrie," and then looks up at her inquiringly.

She smiles at his anxious expression. Tom thinks she looks as young and pretty as she did on their wedding day, and tries hard to recall a valentine he had once written her years ago.

"Do you remember that valentine I sent you at boarding school?" he asks, after a vain attempt to repeat it.

"Something about sending me your heart as your valentine, wasn't it?"
She gazes out of the window, with a far-away look in her eyes, and a slight flush rises to her cheeks as she recalls the happy time. Tom thinks she is more beautiful than ever.

"So it was, Carrie. But now you have it, dear, so that won't do."

"I have an idea!" he exclaims, suddenly, and in a moment is scribbling away.

"Say, Carrie, what rhymes with
dear?"

"Fear, here, clear, dear," she answers quickly, knowing that promptness at such a crucial period means everything to the laboring poet.

After an unsuccessful attempt to think of a line that would appropriately end with one of these words, he bursts forth:

"I can't finish this line."

"Read me what you've written, perhaps I can help you," she answers sympathetically. Tom pushes his chair up to her. "I'll give you a little poem," he says, and reads:

"I'd send you as my valentine
My heart, oh, dearest Caroline,
With love as fragrant as red wine;
But then, you know, you have it dear,
My love."

"I'd give thee all the gems divine
That Mother Nature doth entwine
With her love, loveliness, grace fine—
Tom stops. "I can't get the next line. You see, it must rhyme with
dear."

"Had I a million dollars clear," laughingly she replies.

"No, that isn't quite what I want.
Think of something with a little punch."

"Read it again," and leaning her chin on her hand, she listens with a pretty meditative air, wrinkling her forehead as she cuds her brain for an idea.

Tom watches her anxiously, with pencil ready.

"Had I a diamond for each tear," she repeats triumphantly.

"You're a trump—the very thing!
See how nicely it comes in, and he reads aloud.

"Now for the second verse." His idea evidently are coming faster, for the pencil moves rapidly. She watches him with an amused, tender expression. She pictures him, with head on one side, writing his first valentine to her. Presently he pauses.

"I'm stuck again. I agree with Gifted Hopkins, the English language is abominable. Here I'm held in check in my poetical effusion all on account of a patty word to rhyme with 'dear.'"

"Let me see if I can't help you,"
and leaning over his chair she reads aloud;
A castle off in Sunny Spain;
A kingdom fair for thee to reign,
I'd gladly give it were mine—
Had I a purse that wide did gape—There's where the rub comes in and the rhyme doesn't."

"Well, I'd change it somewhat," and then, trying very hard to be serious,
she recites:

"I'd quickly buy a big knapsack
My gold to hold."

"Now, Carrie, that's mean."

"Well, dear, to be serious." She thinks for a moment. "How would this do?"

"Had I a purse that wide did gape
With yellow coin, within thy lap
I'd gladly pour my golden store."

"Finely. Now don't say a word!"
he exclaims, as she is about to speak.
"I've got the ending in my head. She looks on it and in a moment he finishes."

"Now, here are the last lines:
"The only thing I have to send
Is love—a love that knows no end."
"That's awfully pretty!" she cries, clapping her hands. "Why, don't you take it around to a paper now?"

"I believe I will."

"And Tom," she calls out, as he is pulling on his coat in the hall, "if it isn't accepted, don't be discouraged—we'll have it framed!"

She stands and nods to him from the window. "Dear Tom," she says, and then adds, "foolish fellow, to write me a valentine!"

Tom presses himself at the office of the Epoch, and is duly ushered into the editor's room. As he enters the door, he sees that the editor is still looking at his card.

"What can I do for you, Mr. Travers?" looking up keenly at Tom.

Tom hesitates. "I have a poem—a St. Valentine's poem I would like to show you."

"Did you write that to your lady-love?" says the editor quickly.

"No—o—well—yes," Tom blushes a little. "The fact is, I wrote it to my wife."

"You did, eh?" exclaims the editor, rather brusquely, tho' Tom thinks he sees something glistering in the editor's eye. "Well, it isn't bad. Say, I'll give you five dollars for it." Tom is overjoyed.

"You must have a sweet wife, eh?"
says the editor, looking up at Tom while writing out the check.

"Best in the world."

"Well, take good care of her," and he hands over the check. "And—give her my love. Good-day."

The editor has been sitting thinking, with his head resting on his hand, for a long time. A tear trickles through his fingers. "I knew the name as soon as I saw it. I'd so that the fellow she married, well, and he's writing her valentines, and they've been married, let's see, yes, six years. I can't publish it, taking up Tom's valentine, but I'll keep it, and he places it in his desk; and another tear falls from the editor's eye.

Fun for Everybody.

The coming week promises to afford plenty of amusement for the little folks of Hopkinsville, and to many older people as well, who are fond of the dog and pony show. Next Monday Seibel Brothers' company of 200 animal actors, including dogs, ponies and monkeys, will be here for two performances and a beautiful miniature street parade. Seibel Brothers are making their initial visit through this state, playing the larger cities principally, and have a new dog and pony show, which they claim to be superior, in many respects to any similar exhibition in the country. The show has been on tour only three years, but during that time it has come to the front very rapidly. "There is not an old or worn-out act on the program," says the press agent, "and we have a ring performance consisting of new and novel features, which surpasses any dog and pony show in the United States. Seibel Brothers are in the field with new offerings entirely, with the exception of the spectacular fifty pony drill and the monkey barber shop. Both of these acts have been seen before Seibel Brothers entered the field, but have always proven such big hits that it was decided to place them on the program." With these exceptions, however, according to the press agent, every act is absolutely new. Seibel Brothers make a specialty of a children's riding academy, which is not a part of the performance proper, but for which no charge is made. Every child attending the performance will be taught the first principles of riding by an expert director. Fifty Shetland ponies are placed in commission and each one is bridled and saddled and placed in charge of a competent and obliging attendant. The show has the smallest drove of Shetland ponies in the world. Out of the lot, numbering 75, not a single one will weigh over 300 pounds, and the smallest pair among them weighs less than 100 pounds.

89 ADDITIONS TO CHURCH.

As an evidence that there is no abatement of interest in the evangelistic services now in the second week, at the Christian church, there have been 24 additions to the Christian church since our issue of Tuesday, making a total of 89 up to and including Tuesday night.

The attendance has been the same from the first service under the conduct of Dr. Crossfield, every seat being filled and many standing through most of the services. People who live ten and twelve miles in the country have been coming in to the services. Tuesday night several came up from Princeton to hear one of the grandest sermons of the series.

Dr. Crossfield's theme was "Things That Save." He said that this world is just what it has always been—not the variation of a hair's breadth in the course of the stars or the return of the seasons. It has always been spring, summer, autumn and winter—they always follow in their order, winter never takes the place of summer. It is the same way in the spiritual world. God always has some defined plan and order for the salvation of man—he wants every man to be saved. He has always wanted it thus, and when a man becomes a partaker of Christ's salvation it is by the operations of God's providential plan and order.

After saving Hotel Latham from an imaginary fire by the alarm being turned in, the prompt response to the call by the fire, the attaching of the hose to the fireplug, turning the stream on the burning building, the work of the bucket brigade and the final extinction of the flames by the hook and ladder company doing its part; then the saving of the man overboard at sea by the captain seeing the man fall over, having the engineer reverse the engines, the life saving crew going to the rescue, but all to no avail, the man being saved from a watery grave by laying hold of the lifeline thrown him.

In the case of the fire, the hotel was saved by the combined efforts of those participating and not by any one person's efforts, but by all the means employed. So in the case of the drowning man, every effort put forth was necessary and all depended on the other—if the captain had not seen the man fall overboard no one would have known it, the ship would not have been stopped, the man would not have been drawn in by the men pulling at the line, the man could not have been saved if he had not done his part toward saving himself.

These two illustrations were given that while God is always ready to save men, and does save them by His grace, yet men must do something to save themselves—they must "work out their own salvation". He then quoted Eph. 2:8, "By grace are ye saved through faith". A man must have faith to be saved. God's grace offers the Gospel to men and unless you lay hold of it you will never be saved. You must believe in Jesus. "Thou shalt call His name Jesus, for He shall save the people from their sins"—Matt. 1:21. God's plan was to send His only Son to earth that all who believed in Him should not perish but have everlasting life. We are saved by Christ's blood; by His life. We must be buried in the likeness of His death, the likeness of His resurrection, the likeness of the life that He now lives. We must confess Him. He does not believe in secret discipleship. How can a man who has found a savior keep from going out and finding his brother and bringing him to Christ? We must work. "What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith and have not works? Can faith save him?"—James 2:14.

Then, there must be repentance. "Unless ye repent you shall all likewise perish. A man must hear the Gospel. "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that he believeth"—Rom. 1:16. The evangelist proved his statement by many other Scriptural quotations that God does His part and man must do his part in order to be saved. It will not do for a man to sit down and wait for God to come along and pick him up and save him. He referred to a relative who believed that God would save him without his doing his part and he died without a ray of hope. His two children were raised in the same belief and they died like their father. Subject for this afternoon at 8 o'clock "Christians in Antioch".
